

European plastics distribution & services

Our mission

WE IN NUMBERS

The HROMATKA GROUP is one of the leading distribution and services groups on the European plastics market. With their local brands and premium partners, the sales companies of the HROMATKA GROUP offer an extensive and constantly growing portfolio of premium polymer producers. The group provides local support in 23 countries by highly-qualified and passionate account managers, application engineers and technicians. Our teams support our customers with quick solutions and a deep understanding of their needs. Our programme is completed by our own compounds, called SAX Polymers, which are manufactured in-house in two plants.
